EKSO BIONICS APPOINTS THOMAS LOOBY AS PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

RICHMOND, CA – April 20, 2016 – Ekso Bionics Holdings, Inc. [OTCQB: EKSO], a robotic exoskeleton company, today announced that it has appointed Thomas Looby as president and chief executive officer, effective immediately. Mr. Looby also has been elected to the Company's Board of Directors. Mr. Looby previously served as president and interim chief executive officer since February 2016 and has led in multiple executive roles at Ekso Bionics since April 2014.

Steven Sherman, chairman of the Board of Directors of Ekso Bionics, commented, "We are pleased that Tom will be serving as president and chief executive officer and thrilled to have him join the Ekso Bionics Board of Directors. Under Tom's leadership as interim chief executive officer, the Company recently announced the 510(k) clearance of our Ekso GT, a truly ground-breaking milestone for Ekso Bionics and the industry at large. Tom is the right person to lead the Company and we have great confidence that Tom will be successful in executing Ekso Bionics' growth strategy."

Prior to Mr. Looby's appointment as president and Interim chief executive officer, he served as the Company's president and chief commercialization officer since July 2014 and held the position of chief marketing officer from April 2014 until July 2014. Mr. Looby has 20 years of experience commercializing novel technologies for companies such as Given Imaging, which was acquired by Covidien, Eastman Kodak, Bayer and ThyssenKrupp.

"I am incredibly excited about our business, and I sincerely appreciate the Board's confidence in me to lead the Company as we are accelerating our market development and commercialization efforts," said Mr. Looby. "We have something special here at Ekso Bionics: exceptional core technology, a talented team and a brand that is trusted to deliver exoskeleton innovations to customers in healthcare and industrial markets. I am confident that Ekso Bionics will continue to be at the forefront of this exciting market."
